

Shaded Dusty, the coolest, with Ringo, another one of the coolest.

Lesley's seventeen and leads a quiet life daily. Here she's on the phone about last night's date.

LESLEY ^{VS} GORE

What the Beatles think about Lesley and Dusty

*Dusty's a lot older. She's been around.
Lesley's still a kid. But if Dusty were in Lesley's shoes at her age, it would be different. Dusty's more of a cat!*

John Lennon says:

LET'S FACE IT, Dusty's a lot older. Lesley is just a youngster from New Jersey who happened to hit it big. She comes from an entirely different background and word has it that she's going to college next year which is something that never quite happened to Dusty. Can you see Dusty in college. Their audiences are somewhat the same, but Lesley's a much nicer appearing girl. Dusty's a real cat who wears wild clothes and goes in for wild times. Lesley . . . well, Les' a conservative on this subject. She drives her own car and buys her own clothes, but that's about as far as the comparisons can go. The two have never met and it seems pretty likely that Lesley's life span in show business in America will be much longer than Dusty's. Lesley doesn't need to be seen with the Beatles (although we're sure she wouldn't mind it) for publicity. And with Dusty — well, let's say it helps anyway.
